The other as family link traced

A GREAT Wyrley schoolgirl has traced her roots back to Anne Boleyn and will be displaying her family tree at a history group's annual exhibition this weekend.

Lucy Shepherd, aged 16, from Bloxwich, is a sixth form student at Great Wyrley Performing Arts High School, studying psychology, English and health and social care.

She became intrigued in the family's past when her nan suspected a royal heritage linked to their family crest.

Arrests on metal theft

A MAN was due to appear in court charged with metal theft from a play area in Chadsmoor.

The 35-year-old was due before Cannock yesterday (Wednesday). Another man, aged 42, was also arrested.

Some 45 metres of fencing was unbolted and stolen from the Matlock Drive park either late on Monday or in the early hours of Tuesday.

Two men were later spot-ted cutting up fencing with an angle-grinder between two nearby blocks of flats.

CONTROVERSIAL multi-million pound plans to build a supermarket, petrol station and 70-bed hotel in Penkridge have been thrown out by councillors.

Members of South Staffs Council's regulatory committee instead gave the go-ahead to a nursing home and housing development on the same site at Tuesday night's meeting.

The plans were all submitted by developers Northcreek Estates as part of Simon Hoare, speaking on behalf of the applicant, argued there was a need for a "suitably sized" store in the community which would bring job opportunities.

He added the care home was in a "sustainable" location and would also create jobs. But the plans for a supermarket, petrol station and hotel had been recommended for refusal by council planning officers who said it was not in-keeping with the character of the village and would take trade away from the main shopping centre.

Support

"I would hate to see it happen in Penkridge."
Almost a third of the housing development will offer affordable homes, some of which are expected to cater for assisted living, targeting the elderly or disabled. Councillor Jeff Ashley, ward member for Huntington and Hatherton, spoke in support of the plans for homes, claiming: "We do need housing for our younger people".
Supporting the planned housing development, Kinver Councillor Brian Edwards added: "What I like about it is the mixture of residential development. It not only looks after one section of the public but a number of them."

Cannock Chase MP Aidan Burley said he was delighted at the news. He said: "Rugeley is an area that desperately needs jobs.

"I am happy to hear that Amazon is investing in our area and it is continuing to take off. It is exactly what the town needs."

The online retailer opened its huge base at Towers Business Park last September and brought 900 jobs along with it.

Meanwhile, a multi-million pound expansion of Rugeley Power Station has been unveiled. The plans will safeguard 170 jobs and create up to 500 temporary positions.

Bosses at construction and supply companies across Staffordshire have pledged to use local firms for the two-year scheme.

Town councillor Tim Jones says the plans have so far been given a warm reaction. of them."

The plans for a supermarket had divided the community in the village, with some residents welcoming the extra variety the new store would provide, while other residents and traders claimed it would ruin some small businesses.

THE summer floods that have postponed part of a $50m road repair programme across the county until next spring could cost millions more. Although the firm employed to carry out the five-year contract will have to pay for the damage caused by July's severe wet weather, the delays might impact financially on the long-term roads programme.

WORK has this week started on a £13m residential home in Penkridge. The complex will help meet to the growing demand for older people's housing in the South Staffordshire district.

Developers are beginning work to transform the site of the former Silverdene Care Home, at Tildesely Close.

The development, by Stafford-based Housing Plus, will see the site turned into an extra care scheme featuring 82 purposebuilt apartments for people aged mainly over 55. The multi-million pound scheme is due for completion in 2014. due for completion in 2014

has been treated for a gun shot wound

A FAMILY pet has been left in a critical condition after being shot with a pellet gun.

Wendy Powell, aged 52, returned from work to her home in Woodland Close, Hednesford, to find her three-year-old cat Alfie dragging himself back, badly wounded and in pain. Following a consultation at a Cannock vets and a three-and-a-half hour operation at Poole House Veterinary Clinic, in Lichfield, Wendy discovered Alfie had been shot in the abdomen with a pellet gun. The pellet went through the left side of his body before lodging itself in his right knee.

Alfie has damage to his intestine and is at risk of developing peritonitis, which can be fatal. The attack happened between 8.45am and 5.45pm on September 19. Anyone with information should call police on 101.

Let down by culture of fake tan celebrities

THE poor quality of "talent" on show at the Olympics and Paralympics closing ceremonies is, sadly, a true reflection now of the "fake celebrity" and "instant celebrity" and "instant fame" culture propagated by fast-moving media outlets who no longer have the time, finance and inclination to promote true talent. For example, a musician by definition is a person skilled in the art of music. Not one you could attribute month to use the fitness room. However since the centre has been rebuilt and the private organisation has become involved the prices just seem to keep increasing.

I play badminton there and as soon as the council relinquished responsibility the price increased from £2 to £3. On my last visit to the fitness room I was informed that the age for concessions had been increased from 60 to 65 and that my monthly subscription would go up from £13.85 to £30. The change of operator might have been a good deal for the council, but not so for the taxpayers. I believe that the new operators are supposed to be a non-profit making organisation, hard to believe when they increase prices so much.

Church proposal is not a sudden whim

I FEEL I need to respond to the front page article of September 20 concerning the removal of pews from St Anne's Church, Chasetown.

This proposal – and that's all it is at the moment – is not a sudden whim. It has been discussed before during the incumbencies of both the previous vicars. To my knowledge the kind of seating has not been discussed, and I myself would not be satisfied with anything less than a well constructed and well padded chair being agreed to.

Mr Whitehouse stated support for the proposal has not been tested, when it fact the views of the regular congregation have been considered and discussed, as a result of which this further action has been taken, ie to request a faculty. Any alteration would also be subject to English Heritage because the building is listed Grade II.

I am sure Mr Whitehouse is not alone in his views, as there are many who consider St Anne's to be 'my church' when all they ever attend is for matches, hatches and dispatches, and give no help in carrying the financial burden that the worshipping congregation has to do.

Village history is brought to book

Cheslyn Hay Historical Society are about to launch the third volume of their popular local history book this weekend.

Cheslyn Hay Lives: Volume Three is the result of 12 months worth of hard work by the team of six researchers.

The book contains 64 pages of history from the surrounding area all illustrated with around 110 pictures from the society's extensive archive extensive archive.

The first chapter deals with the details of the Edalji Story, a national news story in the early 1900s that called upon the services of Sir Arthur Conan Doyle.

Shapurji Edalji was possibly one of Cheslyn Hay's most controversial vicars, whose son, George was imprisoned for four years after being suspected of illegally slaughtering a number of animals.

Other chapters include the detailed history of Joe Baker a local man whose family history reads like the script of a television drama. The book also features an indepth look into old editions of local newspapers going back more than 100 years olus a chapter dedicated to the history of plus a chapter dedicated to the history of local buildings and Shops including the changing site of the Old Britannia Picture House, in Rosemary Road, now occupied by Liberty Court flats.

Author Trevor McFarlane, aged 73, has been with the society for 11 years. He said: "The interest from the public to date has been amazing."

The group relies upon donations from members of the public to keep its vast archives updated.

Trevor added: "We get a lot of people sending us pictures especially after the death of a relative, but unfortunately Ioften speak to people who tell me they threw a load of pictures out."

Immigration now under control, says Chase MP

CANNOCK Chase MP Aidan Burley has welcomed the first fall in net migration into the UK since 2008. Official statistics show the numbers dropped from 252,000 in the year to December 2010 to 216,000 the following year.

The figures from the Office for National Statistics show that for the year to June 2012 the number of student visas issued has decreased by 30 per cent compared with the previous year.

Issued has decreased by so yet cent compared with the privious year.

Mr Burley said: "Immigration is a very important issue for local people on the doorstep here in Cannock Chase. For years under Labour, immigration was uncontrolled.

"The system was broken, and nothing was being done to fix it. I'm pleased that we now have a government beginning to do what is needed to bring immigration under control."

Increase in demand.

The Penkridge transport scheme, which also covers Acton Trussell, has been run by volunteers for the last 20 years. It started as a social service, taking residents who could not use public transport to the shops by car, or to visit husbands and wives in care homes.

Today, it still gives that support, but the taxi run to and from medical appointments has become an essential lifeline for villagers.

However, that is in danger as during recent months calls have increased to such an extent that co-ordinator and driver Keith Burton has had to let people down.

Details

Five appointments in a day is not unusual. Earlier this month, nine journeys were requested but only three drivers available.

drivers available.

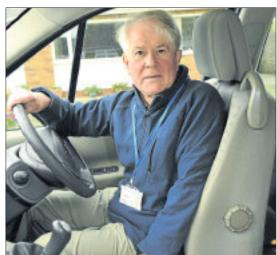

"It's very disheartening to have to let people down," said Keith. "We try to take more than one passenger at a time but when appointments are spread out across the day it can be difficult."

Drivers will generally wait for their passengers if the appointment is expected to take under two hours. Any longer, and they would leave their contact details with reception and return later.

Drop-offs routinely include hospitals in Wolverhampton and Stafford, and as far as Stoke-on-Trent and Birmingham. Drivers receive an allowance of 45p a mile.

Homes scheme on land close to railway station

Phillipa's new love story

LOVE is in the air thanks to a romantic fiction author from Hammerwich who is preparing to release her new book.

Phillipa Ashley, aged 49, will release Miranda's Mount as an e-book on October 4. Mrs Ashley said the book was a sexy, funny romantic tale set in ornwan. She said: "I was inspired to write thought how it would be to live in a place that is cut off by the tide twice a day and be so isolated.

"My book is set on a fictional island where Miranda works as the manager of a hotel.

"But when the owner returns unexpectedly and tells them he is going to sell it, we see how she tries to stop it and how romance ensues."

next to Cannock Railway Station. Barratt Homes wants to build 34 homes on land between Girton Road and Devon Road.

Road and Devon Road.

The overgrown site, half-a-mile from the town centre, used to be a gas storage facility and the move to bring it back to life was welcomed by Cannock north councillor Gordon Alcott.

He said: "It wasn't a giant site like you get in the rest of the Black Country but they used to cause a bit of a stink for people living around there. I think a lot of people were glad to see them go.

"I think it will meet the demand, it will be near the town centre, and it must be only 50 yards away from train and bus links for people who work in the wider West Midlands," he added.

Residents in Devon Road broadly support the scheme for two-storey terraced and semi-detached houses.

Anna Bassett, a 32-year-old mother-oftwo, said: "It would have been nice to see it turned in to a park or somewhere for the kids to go and play.
"Something should be done with it because it's a bit of a waste," she said.
Darren Jones, a writer aged 38, said: "I can't see what else it could be used for. It seems like quite a small site though, I can't picture there being that many houses there."
Parking for 64 vehicles and new footnaths

Parking for 64 vehicles and new footpaths rarking for ot venices and new lootpaths and cycle links will also be created as part of the planned development which would neighbour Station Court.
No date has been set for council's planning chiefs to look at the proposals.

Pedestrian hit by car

A MAN was taken to hospital with a broken foot and collarbone after being struck by a car in Hednesford. The pedestrian, aged 26 was hit by a black BMW 116 driven by a 46 year-old Derby woman as he crossed near Our Lady of Lourdes Church, Uxbridge St-reet at about 9am on September 19. Witnesses should call Pc Phil Richardson on 101.

s part of a bold move to change the way Staffordshire's schools are supported, Staffordshire County Council is seeking the views of members of the public.

Schools in Staffordshire can currently buy a range of support services, such as school meals, cleaning services, outdoor education and music tuition from the Reduced funding and an increase in competition have caused council bosses to seek a business partner who will bring the investment and commercial expertise needed to give schools the best support possible and protect jobs.

County Councillor Ian Parry, Cabinet Member for Finance and Transformation, said: "Our priority is supporting schools to provide the best possible education for the children and young people of Staffordshire.

"If we do nothing in the current climate, our school support services will be gradually reduced and become unviable. By seeking investment, we're taking decisive action to safeguard services for the future.

"Exactly which services will form part of the new joint venture is still open for debate."

The county council has a legal responsibility to ask members of the public whether it's appropriate for the new joint venture to run leisure services for young people aged 13-19 years (and for young people with a learning difficulty aged up to 24 years.)

These leisure services could be for educational purposes or just for fun. They include all services currently provided by Staffordshire Performing Arts, Outdoor Education Centres and Staffordshire Partnership. Things like music lessons and performances, outdoor learning experiences and apprenticeships.

Councillor Parry continues: "We need to know what you think about the possibility of leisure services for young people being run by the new joint venture. Your feedback will be considered at the Cabinet meeting in December where my colleagues and I will make a decision on how leisure services will be run in the future."

Tell us what you think by sending your comments to yourfeedback@ staffordshire.gov.uk, calling 0300 111 8000 or writing to Community Engagement and Consultation Manager, Policy and Performance Team, c/o Wedgwood Building, Tipping Street, Stafford, ST16 2DH.

The closing date for returning your views is Friday 2 November.

Tutors are defended as figures reveal sackings

SIXTEEN teachers working at schools across Staffordshire have been sacked for poor performance since 2008.

During the 2008/09 school year, one teacher was dismissed in Staffordshire. The next year, five lost their jobs. In 2010/11, nine teachers were axed for poor performance, but only one last year.

The figures were released as the Government introduces legislation making it easier for headteachers to dismiss under-performing staff. From this month, poor teachers can be removed within a term instead of a year. # Hednesford remember Hednesford's mining heritage will be unveiled. An 8ft Davy Lamp has already been erected in the town. On April 28, a commemorative wall featuring the names of miners inscribed into bricks - and their pit they worked at - will be dedicated.

Hednesford was an important coal mining community for more than a century and Mike Mellor, treasurer of Chaps (Chase Arts in Public Spaces), which is behind the project, said it would be a fitting tribute to the old colliery workers.

Today, it has a population of more than 16,000 people, but it is a town steeped in history. From 1914-18, two huge army training camps were built and more than 250,000 British and Commonwealth troops passed through destined for the Western Front. In 1938, a Royal Air Force Training camp was established. This became known as BAF Hednesford. and is now the site of the Cannock Chase Visitor Centre at Marguis Drive. Further history of the town can be gained from the Museum of Cannock Chase, in Valley Road, a popular tourist attraction, while the picturesque Hednesford Hills and its Raceway still welcome thousands of visitors each year. The town is currently undergoing a massive regeneration project. The Hednesford Gateway scheme will have a Tesco supermarket at its heart with other retail outlets forming part of the redevelopment. Gala Bingo at the Lightworks shopping precinct already draw in customers from within the town and surrounding areas. The town is also the home of Hednesford Town FC, who put the area on the map with a run to the Fourth Round of the FA Cup

No lack of talent in fitting tribute

Follow That Dream, Prince of Wales Centre, Cannock
TO say there was a deserved winner of this £1,000 talent show contest would be a slight on the other contestants. However, I think the judges just about called it right.

Beth Peach-Robinson, a singer from Eeatherstone is already at the Royal Beth Peach-Robinson, a singer from Featherstone, is already at the Royal Academy in London and the prize money will go towards her first year expenses. She was the first of the finalists to perform with Don't Rain On My Parade and was evidently nervous, but grew better as the evening wore on to earn the panel's vote.

Judge Kelvin Broomhead said all six were winners, and there was no disputing that. The diverse talent ranged from dance, performed admirably by Mia Stapleton, aged just 11 and performances from Layla Shirley, who acted out scenes from Chekhov and Shakespeare, singers Luke Groves, Victoria Tew and the operatic voice of Grace Wyatt, who would have been a popular winner. Local boy made good

Andy Reiss acted as compere and per-formed both with his harmony group Ovation and judge Katie Leeming, a fellow member of Beyond the Barrireliow Intenset of Exponence cade.

There's no doubt all performers have a promising future ahead of them, particularly if they take on board the constructive criticism offered by the judges. And, while there could only be one overall winner, it was a fitting tribute to the Melanie Till Memorial Fund.

lake noise as Little Voice brings the house down

The Rise and Fall of Little Voice, Grand Theatre, Wolverhampton SHOUT it from the rooftops as loud as can be. What an excellent production.

Expertly cast with Jess Robinson simply wonderful in the leading role, Jim Cartwright's Rise and Fall of Little Voice was heartwarming, funny and poignant all in one.

Stage management and effects were second to none and I challenge anyone seeing the show this week not to make a big noise about it.

Damaged

Robinson, for me, was not only a par with Jane Horrocks' film portrayal, but, I would say, even better. She didn't but, I would say, even better. She didn't say much early on, of course, but once the Dead Ringers star found her voice, it brought the house down, quite like the fire that led to her records being damaged. That scene itself was excellently staged.

Beverley Callard played LV's coarse mother Mari Hoff and pulled it off a treat, even down to the skimpy outfits one would expect her to wear for her Coronation Street role as Liz McDon- nothing away from his, or Ray Quinn's Coronation Street role as Liz McDon-ald. Her partnership with neighbour Sadie (Sally Plumb) was often hilari-ous, particularly their dance to the Jackson 5. Joe McGann, as the impre-sario Ray Say, was not quite as edgy as Michael Caine in the film, but take nothing away from his, or Kay Quinn's performances. Duggie Brown as club owner Mr Boo played it for laughs, and occasionally got them! Little Voice runs at the Grand until Saturday (September 29). Mark Shipp

RESIDENTS at a Great Wyrley care home lined up for some dancing fun - Country & Western style.

Lakeview Care Home, in Stafford Road, held a Country & Western day with two professional line dancers leading the fun on Thursday, September 20.

The home, owned by Alpha Care Homes, was decorated for the event and residents and staff even looked the part by donning their own cowboy hats and waistcoats.

Lunch was provided with the fare including loaded potato skins and Tex Mex dips. Activities co-ordinator Chris Carr said staff and residents had a fantastic time.

"It was a great day," she said. "The line dancers were really energetic and interacted with our residents, which was fantastic.

"We wanted to do something a bit different for our residents," Chris added. "We've had a line dancing show here before which went down a storm, but the residents didn't really get to take part. Everyone really loved getting more involved in the Country & Western day."

Complement

He hopes to lodge a planning application before the end of the year.
Father-of-three Mr Woodberry, aged 31, of Hough Way, Essington, said: "There are already grass pitches used by Wyrley Juniors foot-ball club, also in Long Lane, and we want to complement rather than compete with them.

"That's why we have created an artificial pitch, which they will be able to use during winter."

During the day, he added, the pitch would be hired out for free to St John's Primary School for PE lessons and sports days. sports days.

THE 253rd birthday of Guinness is being celebrated at a pub in Cannock (today) Thursday.
Arthur Guinness founded Guinness on September 24
1759 and at one time the St James's Gate Brewery in Dublin was the largest in the world.
Bar Sport, in High Green, is hosting the Arthur's Day
Irish bash to mark the anniversary.
Traditional music band The Wild Irish will be performing and there will be a Gaelic-themed menu and entertainment from Irish dancers and a party DJ. There will also be special offers on Guinness.
The event was first held three years ago to mark the 250th milestone. Owner Scott Murray said it had now become an annual event.
"We are hoping our customers will be up for the craic," he said.

ADVERTISEMENT

THE earliest information on Bridgtown describes a mill in Walk Mill Lane, supposedly dating back to the sixteenth century and close to the old Roman Road, the Watling Street. There was also a toll-keeper's cottage on the Walsall Road but not much besides prior to the 19th century. At this time the name Bridgtown was not even in use

In 1859 there was Long House Farm on the Watling Street and six houses on the Walsall Road. Soon after that the land was developed by the Wolverhampton Building Society following the opening of the local collieries. Streets were laid out and houses were built. The Bridgtown estate belonged to the then Lord Hatherton. Its boundaries were Watling Street, Bridge Street, Walsall Road and North Street. The land on the other side of North Street was known as the Bridgtown West estate and belonged to a Mr. Cotterell. The name Bridgtown was almost certainly devised because of the high numbers of bridges and, indeed, it seemed to be impossible to enter Bridgtown without crossing either over or under a bridge!

The Walsall to Hednesford railway line had been constructed between 1856 and 1858, causing the level of the Walsall Road to be lowered considerably near to the junction with Bridge Street. Soon afterwards came the development of the canal system and the construction of the 13 locks between Churchbridge and Leacroft. Bridgtown had superb communication links, by road, by railway and by canal. By the time 1870 came the village was expanding rapidly.

As well as the collieries came the pioneering work of men like William Gilpin and Cornelius Whitehouse, developing industries that made use of local coal supplies. So Bridgtown became a thriving energetic community hrough the first half of the 20th century. Then the nature of industry began to change and planners wanted to separate housing from industry. The days of Bridgtown seemed to be numbered and the village, and its primary school which this year marked its 100th anniversary, came close to extinction in the early 1980s. However, planners did not reckon on the indomitable spirit and will of the Bridgtown people. The village lives on and today regeneration continues.

BBC1, 7pm Week after week this series has proved to be fascinating viewing, as presenter Fiona Bruce – with the assistance of expert Philip Mould – has laid hare some of the tricks of the forgers' trade by assessing supposedly valuable works of art from around the world. But this week the tables are turned, as art detective Philip puts one of his own finds under the microscope. He believes a painting he bought could be the work of 17th-century artist Anthony van Dyck, But to prove it. the piece will have to undergo a thorough

Suction solution

A CUTTING-EDGE development to help resolve the stability problems faced by thousands of denture wearers is now available.

Denturist Steven Burchell Dip CDT RCS(Eng) says the invention has the potential to improve the life quality of those experiencing long-term problems with ill-fitting teeth. The Ultra Suction teeth are held in place by tiny valve-operated suction devices.

All on 4 now here

ONE of the most advanced restorative options for denture wearers is available in Wolverhampton and Dudley. An implant system called All on 4 offers a permanently retained full arch of teeth in a day.

Call us for more details.

Traditional options

THE work of the Denture Clinic has found satisfied customers from as far away as Spain. Its hand-crafted dentures, made in laboratories on the premises, are known for their natural look. Clinic principal Steven Burchell Dip CDT RCS (Eng), says: "I remain passionate about resolving denture problems and for many, quality, traditional dentures can bring about hugely effective results.

LIVE was so afraid of the dentist he plucked up all of his courage and begged him to extract all of his teeth so that he'd never have problems ever again.

That was more than 20 years ago, but what the retired sales director didn't know was that his tooth troubles were far from over.

Following the extractions dentures were fitted and he no problems for a few years. It was a welcome break from the pain he had experienced and the catalogue of dental disasters he had endured.

But the natural ageing process began to take its toll and Clive experienced stability problems with the lower denture as his gums receded. For five years he endured the embarrassment of dentures, sore spots on his gums and denving himself some of his favourite foods. "It took real determination to face up to the problem and the prospect of more dental

Clive recalls his first dental nightmare: Stationed at Malta while in the Royal Navy, he suddenly had raging toothache the night before he was due to play in a football match.

"I'd been drinking to dull the pain but as soon as I was back on board the duty dentists was summoned. He'd been drinking too and when he injected me with the anaesthetic he broke the needle.

"I eventually had to have an X-ray so he could find where the needle was. That was me finished. I'd do anything to avoid the dentist from there on."

In recent years Clive has had four den-ture relines to help the stability issues, but none provided a long-term solution. Flashing his new smile and laughing heartily, Clive adds: "Things were so bad that if I turned to the right my teeth would still be facing forward.

"I can't stress how big a deal it was for me to get things sorted. I was terrified, so when I saw a piece in the paper about Steven Burchell and suction denture technology, I agreed to see him."

Clive's gum erosion was too severe for the suction system to work effectively and he decided to have implant-retained dentures. He was referred by Mr Burchell Dip CDT RCS (Eng), whose Denture Clinic is based at the Parkdale Dental Clinic in Tettenhall Road, Wolverhampton, and North Street, Dudley, to implantologist Mr Jonathon Pugh BDS MSc. Mr Pugh, principal of the Parkdale practice, carried out the surgery and the prosthetics were hand-crafted by Mr Burchell.

Clive recalls the procedure. "I was dreading it, but all I felt was a sensation that Mr Pugh was rubbing my gums." Clive's wife, Margaret, adds: "It's true! I was allowed to sit in with Clive. We were both treated excellently."

Since having the implant-retained dentures, Clive has been able to bite into crispy apples and indulge himself with pork crackling. "I feel comfortable and confident, it's the best money I've ever spent and have recommended both Steve and Jon to friends."

An intelligent new entry in the espionage genre

elissa George has certainly come a long way from the picturesque sand dunes of Summer Bay and Alf Stewart's kindly lectures.

The Arnityville Horror, Derailed and a decent stint in the alwaysloved Firends provided starring roles for her; but when can the actress finally breathe a sigh of relief and be in no doubt that she's really hit the big time? When her talents secure her the lead role in a grity BBC espionage drama like talents secure her the lead role in a gritty BBC espionage drama like Hunted (Thursday, BBC1, 9pm). hat's when – and so we're about to see a whole lot more of this brilliantly talented actress. Here, she crops up as Sam Hunter, an operative for the elite private intelligence and security firm Byzantium. She's had something of hard life: while assigned to a

Hotel GB Channel 4, 9pm

Where on earth would you find the ever-helpful Dr Christian Jessen and foul-mouthed foodie Gordon Ramsay underneath the same roof at the same time? In Hotel GB of course, as Channel 4 brings together some of its well-loved personalities. ows them into a hotel to run it, and sees how they fare. The broadcaster always does these novel-sounding ideas so well, but this time, it's for a good cause. For one week, many familiar faces will ake over a hotel and staff it with unemployed people who are desperate for a break; the challenge being that the hotel must make as much money for unemployment charities as possible. Keep an eye out for Gok Wan, Phil Spencer and ITV1, 9pm James Nesbitt's hit drama about a charismatic brain surgeon obviously impressed millions when it debuted last year, so before you could say 'medulla oblongata; TV bosses had given the green light to a more ambitious second, run. Series two opens 18 months after series one, and there are quite a few changes at St Matthew's nospital. While Monroe (Nesbitt) has moved into his new bachelor pad, Shepherd (Tom Riley) and Bremner (Sarah Parish) are proud parents to baby Louis. Alistair Gillespie (Neil Pearson), the hospital's new Head of Clinical Services, soon makes his presence felt with a few controversial ecisions, and it looks like co-worker Lizzie

UEFA Champions League Live

Manchester United continue their quest to reach the knockout stages of the Champions League this evening as they travel to Romania to face CFR Cluj at the Dr Constantin Radulescu Stadium for their second Group H encounter. The hosts are the domestic champions and produced one of the shock results of matchday one with a 2-0 victory away to Portuguese side SC Braga, leaving United with a potentially tricky assignment as they look to build on their 1-0 win against Galatasaray at Old Trafford on the same evening. Michael Carrick was on target for the Red Devils early in that match, which was also notable for a Nani penalty miss and the return to first-team action of midfielder Darren Fletcher.

Dancing. It introduced us to the competitors and their professional dance partners. Usually such things are predictable, but the sight of tiny Kristina getting Colin Salmon was a bit of a shock – their dances 'in hold' will probably see her staring at his belly button instead of over his shoulder. The competition proper begins this evening, with half of the group of celebrities celebrities taking to the dance floor for the first time; the remainder make their debuts on Saturday. Everyone will be hoping to impress the judges as well as the viewers; the results of both sets of vote will be announced next week, when the first celeb will be given the boot. # SUVs have a lot going for t

There may be a few individuals who buy one because they think luxurio it makes them look important, or because it is the favoured transport of some Premiership footballers, but ignore them.

The reality is that a full-size SUV is pos buy.

They're big, comfortable, versatile and luxurious.

It's the kind of purchase you make and spend every single day being pleased with yourself for.

The reality is though that there are only a handful that truly qualify as large - seven seats as standard is a must in other words.

This is why the Mercedes-Benz GL-Class has to be on your shortlist.

First introduced to the UK back in 2008, a heavily revised version has been announced with sales in this country planned for early

Ext year. If you were familiar with the old aryon were tammar with the old car then you should spot the new GL across a crowded car park, but the changes are significant, and for the better.

for the better.

It has a much cleaner look all round, with smoothed-out bumpers, the family face and sharper creases down the sides.

There's no hiding the fact this is a big car but you don't wander up to it with ong car but you don't wander up to it with a sense of fear: smart design means the new GL has presence but won't intimidate. Choose the right model and you can have a contrasting colour for the front spoiler and sill trims; it's a subtle addition but a remarkably effective one.

Comprehensive

You take a half-step up into the driver's seat to be greeted by a cabin that is clear, comprehensive in its offerings and generous with its luxury.

You sit high of course, not precariously so but with a fantastic view of what's aboad

You sit high of course, not precarnously so but with a fantastic view of what's ahead.

The layout of the dashboard is familiar Mercedes, as is the quality, so it's pretty straightforward to control all the systems and the feeling of luxury is unquestionable. Features like the part-wood steering wheel might sound excessive but it is these small touches that give an S-class experience. More than anything, however, it is the driving that could lead you to believe active anti-roll bars which are genuinely you are ensconced in a luxury saloon. For starters, the level of refinement is

For starters, the level of refinement is first rate.

Whether you go for petrol or diesel power at low to middling cruising speeds, the engine is virtually silent, wind noise is well suppressed and despite their size, the wheels only transmit a faint rumble.

Add into that the superh ride quality.

wheels only transmit a faint rumble.

Add into that the superb ride quality delivered by the revised air suspension system and you have a seriously comfortable car for you and your passengers - it could easily perform limousine duties for those needing something a little tougher.

The GL's seven seats don't present the usual problems: an electric folding system means you can raise or lower the second and third rows with the briefest push of a atton.

It may be comfort-biased, but the GL is r from being an automotive pudding.

For starters, the steering is light and far accurate, offering more than sufficient feel to deliver comfortable cruising and confident cornering.

ension in standard form is well judged, but the optional set-up adds effective and create a scarcely-believable cornering experience almost completely without body roll.

In the UK, the most popular version will inevitably be the GL350 CDi, which offers up 190hp and 620Nm of torque, all delivered through the smooth seven-speed automatic transmission.

There is ample torque available from low revs and the GL350 CDi simply gets on with the job.

Under full acceleration such is the linearity of the delivery that it almost feels languid, but the 0-62mph time of 7.9 rangind, but the o'-zaliphi time of 1.2 seconds tells no lies - particularly remarkable when you consider the GL350 can manage 192g/km and beat forthcoming

EU6 emission regulations.

The GL is the kind of car that could easily stay in your life for years simply because you know it can handle whatever you throw at it, the bonus being that it is also very desirable in its own right.

But if you have the means, treat yourself to the blockbusting AMG version.

AS a complete novice in the black arts of towing, I wouldn't have chosen a 28-foot long, 2.3 tonne, double axle caravan worth over 2.3 tonne, double axle caravan worth over 250,000 for my first experience.

A little trailer designed for taking a bit of garden refuse to the tip would have been more my style. For a start there's no question of reversing: just unhitch and push has always been my solution.

But as it happens, Land Rover chose the rig for me as they wanted motoring journalists to try the Discovery 4 with its muscle and towing technology which make the challenge seem surprisingly easy. And which have won it Caravan Club awards for three years running.

They had created a small 'town' with thousands of cones outlining narrow streets, obstacles such as parked cars, tight bends, awkward junctions and even a 'garage' which tight bends, awkward junctions and even a 'garage' which you could only reverse into. My hopes weren't as high as the cones.

It was a good exercise in marketing by the Land Rover people who genuinely believe in their cars.

I completed the course slowly but faultlessly, with not a cone out of place and of course you have to believe it's the car which gets the credit. Just as they've taken a lot of the mystery and human element out of extreme off-road driving, they've now done the same with towing a caravan, horsebox or boat.

One of the secrets is Land Rover's 'tow assist' system, already standard on the Discovery and soon to be fitted to all new Range Rovers.

Rear view cameras to help you reverse aren't new, of

Rear view cameras to help you reverse aren't new, of course, even ones which predict the car's path depending on course, even ones which predict the car's path depending on the position of the steering wheel.

But once hitched, tow assist automatically predicts the path of the caravan: remembering, of course that that is generally the opposite of the car. Put right hand lock on the steering, for example, and the trailer will be pushed to the left. Its predicted path is shown by coloured lines on the screen in the car's centre console.

With this system, even I managed to reverse the trailer around a 90-degree corner and into its garage. Being able to use the Discovery's low range gears I was able to creep very slowly and deliberately into position, which is no doubt why I was successful at the first attempt.

Boon

This would also be a boon for anyone towing a large boat

This would also be a boon for anyone towing a large boat out of the water, or a large trailer on soft ground.

But the system helps out even before you get to that stage, and it must be one of the few ways a driver could single-handedly hitch up a heavy trailer without the need for a 'spotter'. In most cars you can't even see the caravan's towing gear for the back seats/door/boot because of the angle once you get within a couple of yards.

After a couple of practice efforts, I was able to reverse up to the caravan from a dozen yards or more following the computed trajectory shown on the tow assist screen.

Having already lowered the Discovery's air suspension to the lowest 'access' position, the car's hook was precisely under the caravan's socket. Press the button to return the art to its normal ride height and the two were engaged—you just have to fit the safety wire and electric plug.

I didn't have to lift the caravan's towing hitch (I didn't fancy trying with a vehicle of this size) or jiggle it about to make the connection.

The Discovery 4 also has 'trailer stability assist' which automatically detects the presence of a trailer and, at speeds over 37mph, monitors its behaviour. If it starts swaying or weaving, the system brakes the right wheel or wheels to correct any potential problem.

The Discovery and its towing technology undoubtedly made my efforts in the challenge look good, but it seems it impresses the experts, too.

The car won the over 1,900kg class in the 2012 Town Car of the Year awards—its third successive victory.

Judge Nigel Donnelly said: "Having won the heavyweight class two years in a row, the Discovery 4 was always the red-hot favourite.

"The big Land Rover is even better than before, thanks

"The big Land Rover is even better than before, thanks to the addition of an eight speed automatic gearbox. It's smoother shifting than the old six-speeder and, along with tweaks to the engine, improves performance and economy. Going green - one surefire way of cutting fuel bill and saving the planet is to use less of it

Five ways to combat the ever-rising price of petrol

With the first signs of autumn beginning to appear, millions of UK motorists face a shaky outlook as the cost of fuel continues to rise.

Prices have increased steadily throughout the year and are almost at the same level they reached at their peak in 2009, according to the AA's latest figures. These high fuel prices come as planned rises in rail fares leave families and commuters with even less transport

And the general state of the economy at the moment

And the general state of the economy at the moment means many people have less disposable income.

Unfortunately, there's not much the individual or the government can do about it at present – although the Office Of Fair Trading's investigation into the relationship between pump prices and crude oil has the potential to vidual can reduce the size of their fuel bill is to use less of it.

Five simple tips could help shave 10 or even 20 per cent off the average fuel bill and cost nothing to implement:

● Tyre pressures are crucial not only for safety but also for rolling resistance, which is how much friction there is between the tyre and the road. Keep your tyres at their optimum pressure and you minimise rolling resistance while maximising grip.

Air conditioning is a wonderful thing in summer but it oes use extra fuel. Switch it off when it's not required.
 Clutter in the boot adds weight to your car and a heavier car requires more fuel to make it move, so remove everything you don't need.

everything you don't need.

◆ Having your windows open creates extra wind resistance which saps fuel. Keep them closed whenever possible.

◆ Finally, and most importantly, driving with good anticipation is the key to fuel efficiency. Ideally your speed should change as little as possible.

Looking well ahead will mean you have to stop less often as you blend into traffic. Also, make sure you brake gently and slowly and accelerate smoothly.

Porsche insists the Cayenne S Diesel is the only V8 SUV

Cayenne Diesel delivers top torque and fuel saving

PORSCHE announced new Cayenne S Diesel, which brings huge torque figures and very reasonable fuel economy.
The 4.2-litre V8 engine produces 376bhp, but more importantly more importantly 627lb.ft of torque – more than double what a stan-dard Porsche 911 produces.

It's enough to power the SUV behemoth from rest to 62mph in just 5.7

seconds.

Its top speed is 157mph, and thanks to a stop-start system, its CO2 output is officially rated at only 218g/km.

Porsche claims the Cayenne S Diesel is the only V8 diesel SUV in the world to have stop-start technology.

Fuel consumption tested on the standard combined cycle reaches 34mpg, which, when combined with the S Diesel's 100-litre fuel tank means that a total of up to 745 miles is possible

the of 425 miles is possible between fill-ups.

This new performance diesel is styled to look very much the same as the petrol Cayenne S.

It's also fitted with a sophisticated tracking or the same as the petrol cayenne is a soften with a sophisticated tracking the same consideration of the same as the sa system, equivalent to Thatcham category five level.

Standard equipment includes Porsche Traction Management (PTM) all-wheel drive, which aims to provide a rearwheel-drive feel but with the traction advantages of four driven wheels.

Buyers will also get a leather interior, dual-zone automatic climate control, front and rear parking sensors, cruise control, an audio system operated through a seven-inch touch-screen eight-way powered adjustment for the front seats, 18-inch alloy wheels and a three-year warranty.

Drices will start at Prices will start at £58,243 when the model goes on sale in early 2013.

FROM £139.95 (Dine and Dance)

Take in a top West End show and have some free time in London for shopping and sightseeing. For the Dine and Dance option see the matinee performance before heading back to the hotel for dinner and disco (conditions apply). For the Saturday Night option you will see the evening performance. For both breaks the price includes a theatre ticket, overnight stay in a four-star outer London hotel, with full English breakfast (plus dinner for Dine and Dance options), Pick ups offered are Dudley, Shrewsbury, Telford, Walsall and Wolverhampton

Rail inclusive breaks

Departures most weekends FROM £139.95

Catch the Theatre Express and enjoy a super two-day weekend break in the capital. There's a choice of London hotels and your ticket is for a Saturday evening performance. Rail travel is standard class with the option to upgrade. Depart Saturday morning/early afternoon from Birmingham New Street, Shrewsbury. Stafford or Wolverhampton, returning on the Sunday afternoon/early evening to give plenty of free time for shopping and sightseeing. Stay the Friday evening too for an additional cost

Self-drive breaks

Departures most weekends

FROM £99.95 (Friday Night) FROM £109.95 (Saturday Night)

The self-drive break is for one evening staying either on the Friday night or Saturday night in a four-star hotel. You will see the evening performance: for Friday night you will have a top price ticket and for Saturday evening there is a choice of price bands. Stay extra nights for a reasonable supplement (subject to availability).

* The "from" price and price bands vary for each show - see brochure for details. Single room supplements apply
